Lymphoma Research Foundation Announces 15th Annual North American Educational Forum on Lymphoma

National Lymphoma Expert Stephanie Gregory, MD, to Serve as Program Chair

New York, NY - The Lymphoma Research Foundation (LRF) is pleased to announce the 15th Annual North American Educational Forum on Lymphoma, the world's most comprehensive educational conference for people with lymphoma. The Forum will be held September 24-26, 2010 at the Hotel Nikko in San Francisco, California.

Lymphoma expert Stephanie Gregory, MD, will serve as the Program Chair for the event, overseeing the Forum agenda and expert speaking faculty. Dr. Gregory is the Elodia Kehm Chair of Hematology and Professor of Medicine at Rush University and Director of the Hematology Section at the Rush University Medical Center in Chicago, IL.

"The Educational Forum is a unique resource for lymphoma patients," Dr. Gregory shares. "Attendees will have the opportunity to hear from the world's leading researchers and clinicians in the field of lymphoma, gaining a better understanding of the disease and the treatment options currently available."

The North American Educational Forum on Lymphoma is the largest lymphoma-specific conference in the world. The two and one-half day annual program provides people with lymphoma and their loved ones with critical information about the disease, including disease biology, treatment options, support issues and the latest in lymphoma research.

"We are pleased to have Dr. Gregory take on this important role," says Brian Tomlinson, LRF Director of Programs and Services. "She has generously given of her time to the Foundation for many years, and her leadership and insight will make this year's Educational Forum the most successful yet."

Members of the lymphoma community are invited to learn more about the Forum or register to attend by visiting the LRF website: www.lymphoma.org/edforum.
